“Librarians are awesome”

Report to IFLA Council on FAIFE

Alex Byrne
Chair, IFLA/FAIFE Committee
Creation and development of IFLA/FAIFE

- IFLA Council in Istanbul 1995 confirmed commitment to Article 19 of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights
- Executive Board constituted Committee on Access to Information and Freedom of Expression (CAIFE) - 35 members from 32 nations plus two resource persons.
Creating FAIFE, “a platform to bark from”

- IFLA Council Copenhagen 1997 resolved to:
  - establish a Committee on Freedom of Access to Information and Freedom of Expression that will advise IFLA on matters of international significance to libraries and librarianship in this area, including, but not limited to:
    - Censorship of library materials
    - Ideological, economic, political or religious pressures resulting in limitations on access to information in libraries, or restrictions on librarians and other information specialists who provide reference and other information services.
Formation of the Committee and Office

- 22 members from 20 nations appointed to FAIFE Committee
- Extensions and new appointments in 2000
